Introduction

Oral history interviews with Missourians regarding historical events on audio cassettes, video cassettes, and DVDs. Also includes transcripts and related material such as photographs, negatives, news clippings, obituaries, correspondence, personal accounts, and ephemera.

Project Sketch

These oral histories were conducted by John Viessman and Gary Kremer for the Missouri State Museum Interpretation Program. Includes interviews of Missourians regarding personal recollections of military service, African-American schools and communities, the state capitol building, the capitol fire, and the Thomas Hart Benton murals. The interviews were conducted between 1980 and 2009.

Note

The audio and video cassettes, transcripts, and related materials are arranged alphabetically by name, while the DVDs are arranged by subject matter. Many of the interviews are group interviews. Each person interviewed has been listed, so some interviews are listed several times. The group interviews are generally either filed in the box under the last name of the person that comes first alphabetically or the person that is listed first in the notes field.
