Introduction

Approximately 1 cu. ft.

Jackye Goldberg (1945-) is the daughter of Allan I. Greenberg. She married Alan A. Goldberg in April 1985. She is a former English teacher and administrative manager for a clothing manufacturer. She served as an officer for the Shira Chaya chapter of Na'amat, an organization working to improve the quality of life for women, children and families in Israel, the United States and around the world. Allan I. Greenberg served as a member of the teaching staff at Kehilath Israel Synagogue for 19 years and as Ritual Director since 1973.

The papers in this collection include letters sent in 1987 to Anatoly Levitin, a refusenik family in Kharkov, USSR, who tried for many years to immigrate to Israel. The correspondence with Soviet Jews was a program, Project Yachad, sponsored by the Jewish Community Relations Bureau. Memos and guidelines for participating in the program from the JCRB to the adopted family contacts are also included. Other materials include a speech by Allan Greenberg in 1995 for the 50th anniversary of the Kehilath Israel Synagogue, and a letter to Alan Goldberg from President Bill Clinton in 1994 regarding the denial of Jonathan Pollard's application for executive clemency.
