Introduction

Approximately 2 cu. ft.

The papers of Sandra F. Czarlinsky, an active member of the congregation Temple B'nai Jehudah in Kansas City, include photographs, miscellaneous materials, newspaper clippings, publications, and programs from 1951-2006. The papers document Sandra's involvement in the Sisterhood of the Temple, an auxiliary organization of B'nai Jehudah, and fundraisers for projects sponsored by the organization, such as the Gaslight Antique Show and Sale. The Sisterhood, Congregation B'nai Jehudah, was a founding member of the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods (NFTS), now Women of Reform Judaism (WRJ). The papers also document activities and accomplishments achieved by her three children, Randall (1954-), Joel (1957-) and Andrea (1965-) all attended Center High School in Kansas City.

Sandra Elaine Friedman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Friedman of Oklahoma City, graduated from Monte Cassino High School in Tulsa and studied at the School for Journalism at the University of Missouri where she was president of Alpha Epsilon Phi sorority and treasurer of Theta Sigma Phi honorary journalism fraternity. She married Robert Gary Czarlinsky in the early 1950s.

She has held numerous positions within the Jewish community including Russian Resettlement Coordinator, Sisterhood Chairman of the religious education committee for the Midweek Hebrew Program, co-chair of the 100th anniversary Sisterhood celebration for which she composed the publicity, history and pamphlet; Sisterhood recording secretary (1965), vice-president (1967-1970) and president (1971-1975); and Jewish Community Center Public Relations Director. She also edited the Saith and District 20 Times, publications of B'nai Jehudah organizations.
