These are records of the Odd Fellows lodge at Springfield in Greene County, Missouri. The records consist of volumes containing semi-annual reports to the Grand Lodge of Missouri, 1894-1932, and a folder of miscellaneous papers, 1897-1939.

The volumes contain copies of reports by the Springfield Lodge to the Grand Lodge of Missouri. The reports include information on the number and status of members, the names of members completing work on various degrees, the names of past and present officers, and summaries of financial matters including cash receipts, expenditures, the amounts of sick benefits and relief payments, and investments. The reports begin with the period July-December 1894 and end with that of January-June 1932.

The folder consists of miscellaneous papers removed from the volumes. The papers include financial reports by trustees and members of the auditing and financial committees, and lists of members suspended for nonpayment of dues. The papers begin on 31 December 1897 and continue through 5 January 1939.
