This is a brief “real estate record index” kept by W. N. Veirs Realty Company of Springfield in Greene County, Missouri, in 1910. It includes descriptive entries for individual parcels, located mostly in Springfield.

For a short time in April and May of 1910, the W. N. Veirs Realty Company of Springfield, Missouri, recorded property data in “Stoll’s Modern Real Estate Index,” a ready-to-use volume of prepared categorical columns. The entries included such information about the parcels as the name of the owner, a “brief description of improvements,” and the location, size, and price of the property. Most of the parcels were in Springfield, but a few were in nearby counties in Missouri and Arkansas. There are 89 separate line entries, using only the first five of the volume’s fifty pages.
