

Information Sheet

R Civilian Conservation Corps (U.S.). Company 1730 (Bunker, Mo.).
1143 Newsletter, 1939.
 One folder

This collection is available at The State Historical Society of Missouri. If you would like more information, please contact us at shsresearch@umsystem.edu.

This is a copy of Company Attention (Vol. IV, No. 24, September 1939), the newsletter of Civilian Conservation Corps Company 1730, located at Forest Service Camp F-MO-7 near Bunker in Dent County, Missouri. Laval H. Andre was the Company Commander and Fred M. Gannon was Superintendent of Forestry.

This 24-page newsletter, edited by Harry S. Hayman, contains news of camp programs and personnel. Among those mentioned was former enrollee Loy V. Hanning, who had just made his major-league debut as a pitcher for the St. Louis Browns. There was also news that 46 enrollees were being discharged at the completion of their term of service, and that war had broken out in Europe. The last four pages contain advertisements for local businesses in Bunker and Salem.

r1309

11 December 2006

Kathi Aston

Purchase

Index Cards

Abney, Herman
Andre, Laval H.
Bartley, William F.
Barton, Thurman
Benton, William Avery
Bowen, Holden
Bunker (Mo.)
Civilian Conservation Corps (U.S.). Camp F-7 (Bunker, Mo.)
Civilian Conservation Corps (U.S.). Camp F-MO-7 (Bunker, Mo.)
Civilian Conservation Corps (U.S.). Company 1730 (Bunker, Mo.)
Cooley, Edward L.
Cornelius, George
Crawford, Frederick W.
Dent County (Mo.)
Dinkins, Ernest
Fenton, Robert
Gannon, Fred M.
Gregory, Ralph
Greuter, Francis
Hanning, Loy Vernon
Hatch, William L.
Hayman, Harry S.
Kelleter, Paul
Kuntz, Eugene
Land, Edward

McAllister, Ray
Morrison, John
Myers, Windell
Nivens, Fred
Peetz, Kenneth F.
Pennock, Joseph
Postlewait, Carl
Reitzel, George C.
Scott, Roy D.
Seizert, Burdett F.
Skaggs, Rayborn
Stein, Albert
Triantos, Bernard B.
United States. Forest Service. Camp F-7
Witt, E. Talmage