Related collection: S0622 St. Louis Inter-Faith Committee On Latin America (1982-), Addenda, 1979-1990

The St. Louis Interfaith Committee on Latin America Records collection was donated by the organization on September 11, 2001 with addenda added on July 1, 2003.

Organized in March 1982, the St. Louis Interfaith Committee on Latin America is a non-profit organization that seeks to educate persons in the Greater St. Louis area about the social and economic problems in Latin America. It focuses on education and action opportunities to publicize Latin American issues including monthly newsletters, petition drives, public events and projects, and legislative work. It also works in conjunction with other organizations such as Witness for Peace, Quest for Peace, and Sanctuary.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The St. Louis Interfaith Committee on Latin America Records collection includes financial information, correspondence, meeting minutes, newspaper clippings, newsletters, brochures, flyers, books, campaign information, audiotapes, videotapes, and photographs. Together they chronicle the establishment and activities of the St. Louis Interfaith Committee on Latin America from 1982-1997. The records document its mission to promote public awareness about Latin America. The records also reveal the larger picture of the power of a grass-roots organization.

This collection is divided into six series: (1) Administration, (2) Campaigns, (3) Affiliated Organizations, (4) Publications, (5) Audiotapes and Videotapes, and (6) Photographs.
